DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mizukami et al. (6,069,960).

Regarding claim 1, Mizukami et al. discloses a device comprising (figure 2) an earphone jack (J) having two terminals (e, g) which are disconnected from each other when an earphone plug is inserted into the jack (J); a switching unit (S1) connected to one of the two terminals, and driven when the two terminals are connected to each other; a comparator (8) connected to the switching unit (S1), for generating a first state signal when the switching unit is driven, and generating a second state signal when the switching unit is not driven (True for any comparator include element 8 of Mizukami et al.); and a controller (11) for receiving the first or second state signal from the comparator (8), and determining whether the earphone plug is connected to the earphone jack according to the first or second state signal.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 2-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mizukami et al. (6,069,960).

Regarding claims 2-6 Mizukami et al. discloses the switching unit is an NMOSFET (It is inherent that switch S1 must be Field Effect Transistor) which is turned on when the two terminals (e, f) are connected to each other (See also figure 5).

Mizukami et al. does not explicitly disclose the switch when turned on connects to a non-inverting terminal of the comparator to a ground terminal.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the switch (S1) as taught by Mizukami et al. into the comparator of Mizukami et al. to connect the voltage to be compared to ground because, depend to the desired output (Logic state 0 or 1) and the reference voltage (Ground reference or virtual reference), the voltage to be compared must be grounded (Logic 0) or connected to high voltage (Logic 1) since the connection to logic high or to logic low to compare to a reference is a principle function of any comparator.

Art Unit: 2858
